Support for LGBTU young people
Allsorts By providing online groups and one-to-one support for the duration of social distancing/isolation, Allsorts aims to ensure that LGBT+ children, young people and their parents/carers across Sussex and further afield in the South East are not left behind during this pandemic. Additionally, in launching online LGBT+ youth services, we have found that we are now able to support harder to reach people in rural areas, and those with social anxiety and/or mobility issues.
